Searching Options

Search across the full text by title, author, description, state, country, or date.

Search by Date & Choose Sort-by Method: Narrow to a range of years and sort results by various parameters.

Boolean Operators: Use boolean operators to connect search terms (AND, OR, NOT).

Select Titles: Narrow your search to include one or more specific titles or search by Journal Title.

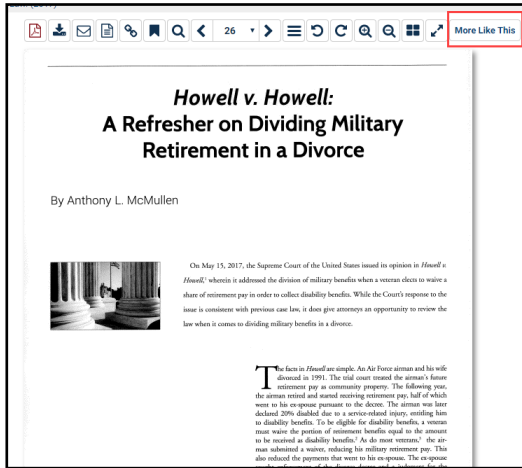

The screenshot shows a search interface with the following elements:

- Three search input fields with dropdown menus for "Text", "Title", and "Creator/Author".
- Between the fields are "AND" dropdown menus and an "Add field" button.
- A red box highlights the "Keyword Search Builder BETA" button.
- A "Select Titles:" section with two input fields: "Choose By Citation..." and "Choose By Journal Title...".
- A "Date: (YYYY) [ ] To: (YYYY) [ ]" section and a "Sort by: Relevance" dropdown menu.
- A "Search" button at the bottom left.

Keyword Search Builder: Enter keywords into one or more boxes and use the boost levels to give more weight to the most important terms in the query

More Searching Options

When viewing an article in HeinOnline, the More Like This button gives users the opportunity to find similar articles. This tool uses a program which pulls out “interesting words” as determined by an algorithm, from the article being viewed. Users are provided with a list of similar articles, based on the interesting words.

Topics and Entities: These search facets are found on result pages for searches and More Like This results. The entities include location, person, and organization. These tools enhance a user’s search results to include even more relevant articles.

Citations

Access a document using the Citation Navigator. Simply insert the volume, citation and page number. Not sure if the abbreviation is accurate? Use the Citation Format Guide option to locate the proper citation.

To access multiple citation formats for the article you are reviewing, simply click the cite button located above the Table of Contents.

Hein's ScholarCheck

Hein's ScholarCheck is a series of tools and features in the Bar Journal Library and throughout HeinOnline, that allow you to view journal articles that have a heavy influence on the subject you are researching. To determine where ScholarCheck tools and features can be used, look for the ScholarCheck icon .

ScholarCheck features:

- Link to case law powered by Fastcase (only available to HeinOnline Core subscribers)
- Link to articles that cite document being viewed
- Link to documents cited by the article, including US Code, Federal Register, Code of Federal Regulations and Statutes at Large
- Link to external links cited
- Choose to view search results based on number of times cited
- Much more!

Full Text Not Currently Available

HeinOnline indexes the newest issues of journals whose recent content is not currently available in the Bar Journal Library. Indexing this content allows you to search and browse the title, author and abstract information for articles within the volumes that are not yet available in full text within HeinOnline.

For those results in which we do not currently have the full-text available, we will highlight the box with a light red shade and indicate Full Text Not Currently Available in HeinOnline.

When you click on the name of the article from the search result, we will provide you with the publisher's information, including a direct link to the publisher's website, and indicate the coverage of the title in HeinOnline. You can also set up ISSN/ISBN or OpenURL linking through our Branding Program (learn more here: <http://home.heinonline.org/branding/>) which will give you the ability to find the article or journal within another source in your library other than HeinOnline.
