

Session Laws Library

All States Available from Inception to Current

First released in 2007, HeinOnline's Digital Session Laws Library contains exact replications of the official bound session laws of all 50 states, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. Updated monthly, this is an ever-expanding database. It is the only complete online source of laws from all 50 states, beginning with territorial, colonial, and early statehood laws and continuing through to today. The session laws for all states are current within 60 days of the printed publication.

The database includes the D.C. Register and the Session Laws of the U.S. Federal Government, and features the entire back file of the Acts of Parliament of Canada and Acts of Parliament of Australia.

HeinOnline's Session Laws Library is updated on a monthly basis. As new session laws are printed, they will be included in HeinOnline within 60 days of publication.

New Enhancements

We are currently indexing session laws for all 50 states to the chapter or act level back to inception, plus adding this indexing to all new session laws released in HeinOnline. We have completed the states of California, Illinois, Florida, New York, and Maryland and will continue to index the remaining states. In addition to improving browsability, this indexing enhances the Session Laws Quick Locator tool.

This is located to the Session Laws Library homepage and is also available from all state pages. The tool will direct the user to the exact page where each chapter or act begins for the specific state and year chosen.
