ABOUT THE DATABASE

Edited by Frank Houdek and Ed Edmonds, HeinOnline's Business and Legal Aspects of Sports and Entertainment (BLASE) is designed to assist researchers in locating sources relevant to the many issues surrounding the critically important subject areas of sports and entertainment, both of which have now attained global prominence. The database builds upon HeinOnline's historical strengths in legal periodical literature, case law, and U.S. federal and state materials by providing a unique topical arrangement for the documents within each tab, while also adding many important resources not previously available in HeinOnline. The editors also provide carefully selected lists of court decisions important to both issues, along with citations and brief annotations describing the significance of each case.

ABOUT TOPICS

The backbone of this database is the topical arrangement created by the editors after analyzing thousands of scholarly articles. A topic has been assigned to every title in BLASE, further organizing the content within each tab. Access the topics within a tab by clicking "Topic" under the browse options. For example, navigate to the "Topic" view under the Books tab. Examples of some of the topics within BLASE include antitrust, blacklist, broadcasting, copyright, drugs and doping, gambling, discrimination in athletics, the Olympics, sexual harassment, and more.

In the "Topic" view, users will see the number of titles currently assigned to that topic.

The screenshot shows a 'Browse By:' section with four buttons: 'Title', 'Author', 'Date', and 'Topic'. The 'Topic' button is highlighted with a red box. Below this, there are two columns of topics. The left column is titled 'Entertainment' and lists: Agents, Managers, and Attorneys (1), Antitrust and Theater (1), Antitrust and Visual Entertainment (1), Blacklist (1), Broadcasting (10), Children (3), and Content Regulation of Music and Radio (10). The right column is titled 'Sports' and lists: Antitrust (2), Baseball (1), Boxing (3), Broadcasting (7), Discrimination in Athletics (8), Drugs and Doping (2), and Fantasy Sports (1). Red boxes highlight the 'Topic' button and the topic lists.

SCOPE NOTES AND CASE ANNOTATIONS

To help illuminate the editors' approach when assigning material to topics and to define the reach and coverage of a particular topic, each topic listed under Scholarly Sports Articles and Cases and Scholarly Entertainment Articles and Cases is given a scope note. The scope note explains the focus of a given topic and, by extension, areas that a topic does not cover. While scope notes are not always provided next to the topics listed in the remaining tabs, this same approach (with slight modifications) is also used for the material and topics in the rest of the database. Users can click the question mark in front of any topic to display its scope note.

Important Cases

There are two case law tabs within BLASE, one for sports and one for entertainment. More than 120 Important Sports Cases and more than 65 Important Entertainment Cases are listed alphabetically by topic. Users can click the question mark to display the associated scope note for each topic. Not familiar with a specific case? No problem! Click the case name to display an annotation for the case. To view a case, click the case citation to be taken to the full text.

The screenshot shows the 'ANTITRUST' topic page. At the top left, there is a question mark icon and the word 'ANTITRUST'. Below this, a scope note is displayed in a box: 'Covers antitrust in all sports, except baseball and intercollegiate athletics, which are covered separately.' A red arrow points from the text 'SCOPE NOTE FOR THE TOPIC' to this box. Below the scope note, a list of case citations is shown: American Needle, Inc. v. National Football League, 560 US 183 (2010); Fraser v. Major League Soccer, LLC, 284 F. 3d 47 (1st Cir. 2002); Philadelphia World Hockey Club, Inc. v. Philadelphia Hockey Club, Inc., 351 F. Supp. 462 (E.D. Pa. 1972); Radovich v. National Football League, 352 U.S. 445 (1957); Robertson v. National Basketball Association, 389 F. Supp. 867 (S.D.N.Y. 1975). Below this list, a case annotation is displayed in a box: 'NBA subject to antitrust challenge over player restraints, which are not protected by labor exemption, and league's proposed merger with ABA'. A red arrow points from the text 'ANNOTATION FOR THE CASE' to this box. At the bottom, another case citation is shown: San Francisco Seals, Ltd. v. National Hockey League, 379 F. Supp. 966 (C.D. Cal. 1974).
