

Cataloging Legal Literature, Fifth Edition

by Melody Busse Lembke & Melissa Beck

A newly-revised edition of the essential legal cataloging manual.

Cataloging Legal Literature, Fifth Edition (CLL5) describes the authors' understanding of the current descriptive and subject cataloging practices for legal materials. It addresses the needs of large and small law libraries alike, particularly those who wish to follow national cataloging standards, including the Library of Congress and the Program for Cooperative Cataloging. CLL5 addresses RDA instructions and terminology as found in both the current RDA Toolkit and its Beta Site.

CLL5 is not a general self-help book for the beginning cataloger. One goal is to help the law cataloger deal with the ambiguities of 21st century cataloging. The questions, some unanswered, posed here are to help a cataloger analyze materials and think like a law cataloger (just like a first-year law student has to learn to think like a lawyer). The authors' intent is to supplement existing primary and secondary cataloging sources by discussing and examining cataloging practices for legal materials.

Throughout the manual, illustrations of descriptive or subject cataloging and MARC tags are offered. Examples of subject cataloging are based on guidelines published in the Library of Congress' Subject Cataloging Manual (SCM), as well as identifying Library of Congress practices for assigning subject headings.

CLL5 must be used in conjunction with RDA, LCSH, SHM, and general handbooks on descriptive and subject cataloging. This manual does not provide a full discussion on all of the RDA instructions or Library of Congress subject headings; only those that represent common problems for legal materials have been included. While much attention is paid to standards, flexible thinking about the needs of the law user is also one of the authors' goals.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Melody Lembke is the former Associate Director, Collection Services at University of California, Irvine Law Library. She has over 40 years of experience dealing with metadata about legal materials. Melody is a co-author of all five editions of CLL.

Melissa Beck is the Head of Cataloging at the UCLA Law Library. She is a long-time member of the Program for Cooperative Cataloging (PCC), and has developed cataloging manuals, training materials, and workshops for serials, integrating resources, and electronic resources.

"It should be considered a required tool in any cataloging department that produces more than a handful of law cataloging records annually."

- Library Quarterly, v. 68 n. 4 (1998)

Cataloging Legal Literature, Fifth Edition

THE RDA TOOLKIT RESTRUCTURE AND REDESIGN PROJECT

In April 2017, additions and change proposals to the current RDA Toolkit from constituents such as the AALL cataloging community were placed on moratorium. This also included any policy statements from the Library of Congress and the Program for Cooperative Cataloging (PCC). The current version of the RDA Toolkit was frozen (permanently) in favor of the RDA Toolkit Restructure and Redesign (3R) Project, the goals of which include aligning RDA with the IFLA Library Reference Model (LRM).

Details of the Project to Date:

As of the publication of this edition, catalogers are still poised between the RDA Toolkit as it now stands and RDA3R, a new interface that includes new concepts, redefined terminology, and a number of options for describing a bibliographic resource. As of the date of this edition's publication, these are the details known so far:

- A stable baseline text for working on translations and policy statements currently exists. Any additional changes made during this phase should not affect the outcome of the instructions and their application.
- Multiple options for any given instruction allows for multiple choices in creating a bibliographic description, to be determined by specific application profiles. Application profiles are expected to come from interested cataloging communities.
- Most of the actual cataloging instructions are similar to previous. The wording has changed, but the outcomes are essentially the same due to a commitment by the RDA Steering Committee to rebuilt the Toolkit with minimal impact on current practice wherever possible.
- The redesigned Toolkit will launch what is being referred to by RDA developers as an “orientation phase,” consisting of a series of webinars, online courses, and demonstrations. Some of these may have already taken place by the publication of CLL5, and wherever they have been quoted, they are referenced in endnotes and listed as useful sources.
- Once the RDA Steering Committee and RDA Board approve the current beta site, then the one-year countdown will begin for retiring the current Toolkit. When pressed for a timeframe, representatives admit that the projected countdown date has shifted from late 2019 to early 2020. This means that the current RDA Toolkit will probably still be in effect into at least early 2021.

ABOUT THE FIFTH EDITION

Because the text of the redesigned Toolkit is considered “stable,” CLL5 is a major revision that incorporates the relevant concepts and terms introduced by the 3R Project. There are specific introductory sections in several chapters that address RDA3R, and whenever possible, the authors discuss new terminology in the context of the old. Most of the cataloging examples, especially for ongoing (diachronic) works, have been updated or replaced. (MARC tagging is still used in these examples as the authors anticipate it will remain for some time.)

The authors decided to retain the specific RDA instruction numbers in the current text for historical purposes, and also because they will still be relevant for some time. Hyperlinks in the online version will gradually be replaced with citation numbers to the RDA Beta Toolkit.

With a few exceptions (all noted in CLL5 when applicable), the practical approaches for the cataloging of legal literature as described in this work have remained the same, despite changes in the RDA Toolkit.

For the purposes of this edition, the authors have incorporated as relevant:

- RDA through April 2017 (the date the Toolkit was frozen)
- RDA as realized in the Toolkit Beta Site through July 2019
- Official documents and presentations from the RDA Steering Committee and its official representatives through July 2019
- Discussions and decisions (if any) from cataloging meetings and roundtables at the recent AALL Annual Meeting in July 2019

In addition to covering the development of RDA, CLL5 also includes the topics covered in Technical Services Law Librarian through Volume 44, no. 4 (June 2019), and relevant LC and PCC documentation through July 2019.

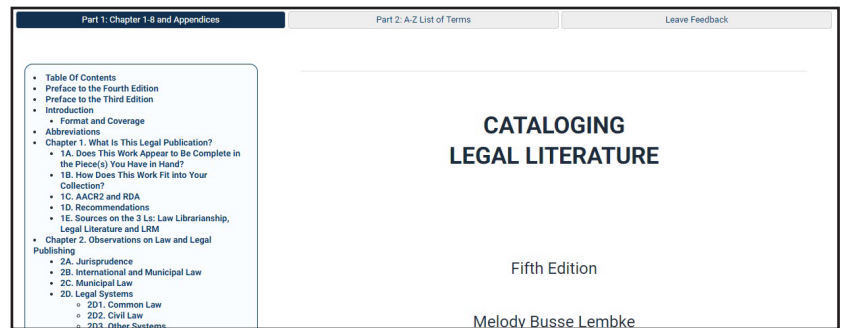

A NOTE ABOUT DIGITAL UPDATES

Given the nature of the current cataloging climate, especially as members of the field await the official restructured RDA Toolkit, the authors and HeinOnline have enhanced the publication format to allow for frequent and timely updates. For this new edition, Hein developers have made it possible for the authors to directly edit CLL5 online, and these updates can appear almost immediately in the public interface. While there is also a print version available, users of CLL5 should check regular release notes in the online version to stay aware of new and revised content, particularly in regard to RDA and the revised RDA Toolkit.

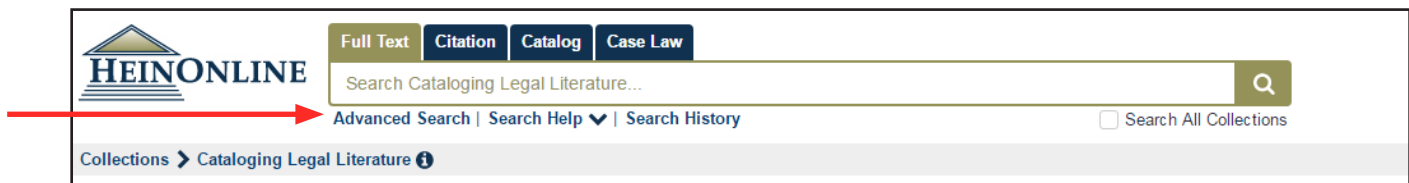

USING CLL5, PART I ONLINE

In addition to print, CLL5 is available in digital format as a searchable resource in HeinOnline. The chapters within Part 1 include hyperlinks to cataloging resources, extensive MARC examples, and charts:

- Chapter 1. What Is This Legal Publication?
- Chapter 2. Observations on Law and Legal Publishing
- Chapter 3. Continuing Resources
- Chapter 4. Electronic Resources (E-resources)
- Chapter 5. Titles and More Titles
- Chapter 6. Editions of Legal Works
- Chapter 7. Subject Cataloging and Term Application
- Chapter 8. Classification of Legal Materials
- Appendices

Use the main search bar and Advanced Search link to search the database:

When available, referenced resources (the RDA Toolkit, CONSER Cataloging Manual, etc.) are linked within the text of the document.

According to RDA 2.2.2.2 and its alternative (as well as the LC-PCC PS), the preferred source for the title and publication information for direct-access electronic resources is an eye-readable label that is affixed to the resource. The "resource" includes any container that is issued with it, according to RDA 2.2.2.1 for example, the case that usually holds a CD-ROM or DVD-ROM. If there is no information on the label or container, use information contained within the resource itself, such as the title screen or opening screen. (This differs from AACR2 9.0B1 which instructs to prefer the title screen or other

Note: Direct-access e-resources are not cataloged according to the P-N guide; the expressions or works (unlike online resources).

- Cataloged on OCLC Books format, Type of record = "a" (the content is text,
- 006 and 007 reflect electronic aspects of the textual monograph (use guide constructing)
- RDA record – no 245 $h GMD; replaced by 33X fields (use the OCLC macro
- 300 field – per RDA 3.4.1.3 use standard term from the list at RDA 3.3.1.3,
- 300 field – per Alternative \(b\) to the instruction (and the LC-PCC PS, you c
- 588 source of title – from label on the CD-ROM
- Best practice: Always supply a 588 source of title for direct access e-resou

there are so many alternatives in RDA regarding its selection, a note makes

LC-PCC PS for 2.2.2.2 RDA

ALTERNATIVE

LC practice for Alternative: Do not apply the alternative to microforms; apply the alternative to direct access electronic resources.

[2010-02]

LC-PCC PS for 2.2.4 RDA

OTHER SOURCES OF INFORMATION

LC practice/PCC practice: Use square brackets if information taken from a source outside a resource itself is supplied in any of the elements listed. However, apply the exception in this instruction if the resource is of a type that does not normally carry identifying information.

CIP Cataloging

LC practice: Use the information supplied by the publisher on the eCIP Traffic Manager's data view  as the source of information for the sub elements in the Publication statement, Distribution statement, and Manufacture statement when cataloging CIPs at the galley stage. A cataloger may make any adjustment to the supplied information judged appropriate to reflect more nearly the data provided in the galley

At the CIP verification stage, adjust these statements, if necessary, according to normal sources of information instructions used for non-CIP and post-CIP cataloging.

[2012-09]

LC-PCC PS for 2.3.1.4 RDA

OPTION

Cataloging Legal Literature, Fifth Edition

USING CLL5, PART 2 ONLINE

Part 2 of CLL5 contains an alphabetical listing of more than 220 legal terms and publication formats. These terms will link users to RDA instructions, subject practice, classification information, and cataloging examples.

Browse terms such as actions, appeal proceedings, bar journals, citations, foreign relations, indexes, journals, law reviews, opinions, session laws, trademarks, and more! You can also search the fields of text, term, definition, alerts, description, subjects, classification, and history.

Simply click on a term to view its RDA provisions, classification tips, MARC examples, and more.

The screenshot displays the CLL5 online interface. On the left is a vertical list of legal terms, with 'Ancient laws' highlighted by a red box. A red arrow points from this box to the right-hand panel, which provides detailed information for 'Ancient laws'.

Ancient laws

"Ancient" laws are those written before the fifth century A.D.

Alert: The cataloger needs to know:

- that the laws are from an ancient jurisdiction;
- that the laws are not enacted by means of Western methods.

Access: 6.19.2.6 Ancient Laws, Certain Medieval Laws, Customary Laws, Etc. directs to use a preferred title for a compilation known by name or a single such law. That preferred title is formulated according to 6.2.2.4-6.2.2.7. See RDA 6.2.2.5 for works published before 1501.

Subjects: Law, Ancient

Legal systems for ancient, tribal and religious law, not related to a particular country, are assigned headings such as Law, Ancient, or headings for specific ancient laws, religious laws, etc.

Title: The main institutions of Jewish law
650 0 Jewish law

Title: The Institutes of Justinian
650 0 Roman law

Title: Laws of the Cherokee Nation ...
650 0 Cherokee law

Examples: A collection of various ancient Roman laws. AAP under title.
245 00 Fontes iuris romani antejustiniani /$c in usum scholarum ediderunt S Riccobono S. Riccobono, J. Baviera, C. Ferrini, J. Furlani, V. Arangio-Ruiz ... Florentiae, apud S. a. G. Barbera.
700 1 Riccobono, Salvatore, $d 1864-1958.

Example used in AACR2 and RDA is for the Code of Hammurabi. Note that under earlier cataloging codes the AAP was under the promulgator.
050 00 KL2212.1 $b .C6236 1903
130 0 Code of Hammurabi. $1 English
245 14 The oldest code of laws in the world :$b the code of laws promulgated by Hammurabi, ...

With the ability to make near immediate additions and changes to this digital edition, the authors of CLL5 will be updating the database regularly.

For more information about this database, including pricing, please contact the Marketing Department at marketing@wshein.com or 800-828-7571.