

Federal Register & Code of Federal Regulations

Comprehensive Coverage from Inception

HeinOnline's Federal Register Library contains the Federal Register from inception (1936-present), the Code of Federal Regulations, the Official U.S. Bulletin, the Administrative Procedure Act, Code of Emergency Federal Regulations, the U.S. Government Manual, the Weekly Compilation of Presidential Documents (continued from 2009 as the Daily Compilation of Presidential Documents).

The Federal Register is a primary source for United States federal government agencies' proposed rules, final rules, changes to existing rules and notices, as well as executive orders and other presidential documents. The official journal of record for the acts of the U.S. government, the Federal Register is updated daily and printed Monday through Friday, except Federal Holidays.

Categories within the Federal Register:

- Presidential documents, executive orders, and proclamations
- Rules and regulations (policy statements and interpretations of rules by federal agencies)
- Proposed rules (petitions by agencies for assistance in rulemaking and other proposals)
- Notices (scheduled hearings and meetings open to the public, grant applications, and administrative orders)

Easy Navigation and Searching

Using the Citation Navigator, a Federal Register document can be quickly located by citation or date. Alternatively, a full-text search of the Federal Register can be narrowed to a specific year or range of years.

The Code of Federal Regulations

The Federal Register Library also includes the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The CFR is the codification of the rules and regulations (also referred to as administrative law) published in the Federal Register. The CFR is a multi-volume set divided into 50 titles that cover broad subjects of federal regulation. While new regulations are continually becoming effective, the physical printing of the CFR is updated once every calendar year.

The screenshot shows two search interfaces. The top one is titled "Title/Part/Section Quick Locator" and has four dropdown menus: "Year:" (Select Year...), "Title:" (Select Year First...), "Part:" (Select Title First...), and "Section:" (Select Part First...). There is a "Find Section" button. The bottom one is titled "CFR Citation Locator" and has four input fields: "Revision Year" (All), "Title" (CFR), "Part", and "Section". There is a "Find Citation" button.

In the Code of Federal Regulations, users may locate a CFR title, part, or section using the Title/Part/Section Quick Locator Tool. Alternatively, quickly search for a section using the CFR Citation Locator Tool.
