State Reports: A Historical Archive

Released June 2014

We have used Hein's State Report Checklist to create a digital database of nearly 5 million pages and 320 titles. Reports for all 50 states are included as well as the linking to the full text of the state report in HeinOnline when available. This provides the researcher with a convenient state-by-state bibliographic guide to published court reports and how they interrelate with the National Court Reporter, for the first time ever in a digital format. Search by publication title or let an interactive map guide you through this extensive new collection in HeinOnline.

This collection will be available as an a-la-carte library, and will continue to grow!

Women and the Law (Peggy)

Women and the Law brings together books, biographies and periodicals dedicated to women's roles in society and the law. This unique collection provides a platform to research the progression of women's roles and rights in society over the past 200 years. Also included are more than 70 titles from Emory University Law School's Feminism and Legal Theory Project, which provide a platform to view the effect of law and culture on the female gender.

Now included in all Academic Core Subscriptions.

▶ World Treaty Library

HeinOnline is changing treaty research forever. This collection brings together works from Rohn, Dumont, Witkor, Martens, and others to create the richest collection of world treaties ever available. All together more than 160,000 treaty records have been identified, covering the time period from 1648 to the present. Various efforts have been put forth over the past decades to create a universal collection of all the treaties of the world, and we have created a solution. Now for the first time, through the cooperation of Tufts University, Brill Publishing, the United Nations, and various others, you will be able to search across all the major treaties in the world in one comprehensive database.

▶ National Survey of State Laws

This new HeinOnline library presents side-by-side comparisons in chart form of noteworthy state laws as well as those of popular interest. For the first time ever digitally, compare hundreds of laws keyed to each state's statutes for a range of subjects, which are divided into general legal categories of current relevance and concern related to consumer, family, criminal, real estate, employment and other fields of law. Hein is also proud to be the publisher of the upcoming new print edition
