Information has been collected from William S. Hein & Co., Inc.'s extensive records gathered over many years and sent to the State Law Library and/or a major university law library within each state for verification and expansion. The revised information was then checked against several other reference sources resulting in the most detailed and updated state report checklist currently available.

In total, the database links to nearly 600 titles and more than 15,400 volumes of full-text documents. A convenient map tool provides users the ability to quickly access the report index and links to available volumes by state.
