World Constitutions Illustrated
Contemporary & Historical Documents & Resources

The Most Complete Source for Current & Historical Constitutions

Focusing on the study of historic and current constitutions of governments, World Constitutions Illustrated enables scholars to research the constitutional and political development of every country in the world. It includes substantial constitutional histories for all countries. For every constitutional document, researchers can find the original text, amending laws, consolidated text, and important related texts. It also contains constitutional periodicals, thousands of classic books, other related works such as the World Factbook, links to scholarly articles and online resources, and bibliographic references.

World Constitutions Illustrated contains the current constitution of every country in the world in its original language. Where multiple original-language versions exist, we provide them. Most countries also include at least one English translation. Since translations depend on and reveal the preferences of makers and time, we provide multiple versions when available.

About This Database

World Constitutions Illustrated contains thousands of contemporary and historical documents, as well as many features to enable browsing and searching across constitutional law of more than 190 countries. This is a picture of what is included:

- Current constitution of every country.
- Constitutional histories of all countries.
- Thousands of books on constitutional law, with specific titles and chapters tied to specific countries.
- Thousands of articles about constitutional development.
- Links to online resources related to political development.
- Bibliographies of constitutional monographs.

The database is updated monthly with new constitutions and amendments and new constitutional documents.

Classic Constitutional Books

Included are thousands of classic books on constitutions, constitutional history and jurisprudence, and political and economic history by some of the greatest legal minds in history, such as:

- Aristotle
- Francis Bacon
- Edward Conwin
- Walter Fairleigh Dodd
- Max Farrand
- Henry Hallam
- Jean Louis de Lolme
- Henry Maine
- Frederic Maitland
- Karl Marx
- Montague
- Thomas Paine
- Francis Palgrave
- Amos Peaslee
- William Prynne
- Theodore Roosevelt
- Joseph Story
- William Stubbs
- Hannis Taylor
- Francis Newton Thorpe
- Daniel Webster
- Woodrow Wilson

Constitutional Periodicals

This database includes more than 40 legal periodicals focusing on constitutional law. Using Hein's ScholarCheck, users can see which other law review articles from the Law Journal Library cite the articles from these publications and quickly link to those articles!* The following periodicals are included:

- Historia Constitucional
- International Journal of Constitutional Law
- Niles' National Register
- Review of Constitutional Studies
- Seton Hall Constitution Journal
- Bill of Rights Review
- Constitutional Commentary
- Constitutional Forum
- East European Constitutional Review
- First Amendment Law Review
- Hastings Constitutional Law Quarterly
- And More!

* You must be subscribed to the Law Journal Library to link to the articles.
Annual Human Rights Reports Submitted to Congress by the U.S. Department of State (1976-current)
(Human Rights and the Helsinki Accords and the United States – Series 1)

The Annual Human Rights Reports Submitted to Congress by the U.S. Department of State are submitted in compliance with Sections 116(d) and 502B(b) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (FAA), as amended, and section 504 of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended. The law provides that the Secretary of State shall transmit to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate, “a full and complete report regarding the status of internationally recognized human rights ... (A) in countries that receive assistance under this part, and (B) in all other foreign countries which are members of the United Nations and which are not otherwise the subject of a human rights report under this Act.” Reports are also included on several countries that are not covered by the congressional requirement. The reports cover internationally recognized individual, civil, political, and worker rights as set forth in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

Country Studies

The Country Studies are a series of books published by the Federal Research Division of the United States Library of Congress. Each book pertains to a specific country and contains a description and an analysis of the historical setting and the social, economic, political, and national security systems and institutions, and examines the interrelationships of those systems and the ways they are shaped by both historical and cultural factors. Each study was written by a multidisciplinary team of social scientists and thus represents the analysis of those authors and should not be construed as an expression of an official United States Government position, policy or decision.

British & Foreign State Papers (1812-1968)

World Constitutions Illustrated features the complete set of British & Foreign State Papers, one of the greatest collections of legal and political documents ever published. It is an invaluable resource for those researching constitutional law, international treaties and international relations. It includes principal documents relating to the political and commercial affairs of nations and their relations with each other since the end of the War in 1814. It also contains texts of international treaties, constitutions, and other diplomatic documents such as statements, speeches, declarations, protocols, and communications that are relevant for international relations and practicing international law.

Modern Legal Systems Cyclopedia

The Modern Legal Systems Cyclopedia comprises introductions to the major legal systems in the world, with coverage ranging from legal education and the way of professional practice, to the form of government and substantive law. This compilation is a result of the efforts of Kenneth Robert Redden, who was a Professor of Law at the University of Virginia for four decades. Professor Redden, later assisted by Linda L. Schleuter, gathered information from hundreds of distinguished contributors from all over the globe in order to present this multi-volume encyclopedia. This work serves as a standard reference work for members of the legal profession in every country, and is also used as a reference work in law schools and other university disciplines.

World Factbook (1981-current)

The World Factbook is prepared by the Central Intelligence Agency for the use of U.S. Government officials. Presented in almanac form, it includes information about the history, people, government, economy, geography, communications, transportation, military, and transnational issues for 266 independent states, dependencies, areas of special sovereignty, and governments from around the world. HeinOnline’s coverage begins in 1981 and continues through the most recently published edition.
Every country is linked directly to its primary and secondary resources!

Current & Historical Constitutions
- Original text and original language
- English translation
- Amending Laws
- Consolidated Texts
- List of all related documents identified
- Indication of the most current documents

Links to Secondary Resources
- World Factbook
- Country Studies
- Modern Legal Systems Cyclopedia
- Annual Human Rights Reports Submitted to Congress by the U.S. Department of State
- Links to chapters and sections from within the classic books that specifically discuss the country

Links to Scholarly Articles
- Thousands of links to articles carefully reviewed and chosen by our editors
- Links to more articles* discussing the political and constitutional development of a country's constitution

Bibliography of Select Constitutional Books
Our editors created a bibliography of select books related to the study of constitutional development of each country

Links to Other Online Sources
- Portals of the World
- World Factbook (for the most recent information)
- GloaLex
- Wikipedia
- Government web site of each country
- And more!

* You must be subscribed to the Law Journal Library to link to the articles.

View Key Metadata for Each Constitution
When browsing or searching constitutional documents, you will see the “more information icon” next to each one or links in search results that says “Document Summary.” This icon or link will display key information about that constitutional document, including:
- Description of the Document
- Document Date
- Document Source
- Document Source Location
- Promulgated Date
- Language of Origin
- Language of Document
- Country Editor's Name
- Country Editor’s Bio
- Notes concerning the particular version of the text

Constitution of the Italian Republic

Italy

L.H. Laing at el. [1950] - English

Document Summary

Flexible Search Options
This database features faceted searching. Search across a number of different fields, depending on the type of document desired. Search across the full text of constitutional documents or search by the description or title of a document, adoption date, document language, effective date, promulgated date, or original language. For books, legal periodicals and other materials, search across the full text or by title, author, or volume date.

Use facets to refine search results by country, document type, date, title, and section type. For example, search across the entire database for "constitutional law" and refine results to include only periodicals. With faceted searching, refine results accurately and easily.

* You must be subscribed to the Law Journal Library to link to the articles.
About the Editor

Jefri Jay Ruchti was born in Montreal, Canada (1949), named for John Jay, the first Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court. He attended the University of Wisconsin (as had his grandfather, father and brother) and the University of Chicago. He began actively collecting the texts of historical and current Constitutions in 1984, mentored through the following years as an editor and translator by Gisbert H. Flanz (1916-2015). He has pursued an independent career as an artist, working primarily in dry media on Japanese paper, exhibiting widely in the United States. He lives with his wife of 39 years, Leigh Whiteman, in Guilford, Connecticut.

Help Us Build the World's Greatest Collection

Our goal is to continue increasing the value of this collection by bringing constitutional documents, periodicals, works, and books together in one place. As a company, we have created a platform where scholars can collaborate and contribute their works to enhance this universal collection. In doing so, we invite you to collaborate and contribute, especially if you have access to foreign law collections! If you have a book, constitutional document, suggestion for an article, or any other work you want to contribute to this project, please contact us at marketing@wshein.com or click on the "Contribute to the Project" button from within the collection in HeinOnline.

If you are a scholar specializing in the constitutional law of a specific country and are interested in becoming an expert "Country Editor" for this project, contact us at marketing@wshein.com. We acknowledge all those who contribute and recognize their contributions within the collection. Country Editors will be acknowledged on the specific country page, accompanied by their biography.

Our Help Page Offers:

Frequently Asked Questions
This section includes answers to questions about access, branding, MyHein, privacy, short-term subscription options, the HeinOnline App, and many more!

Library Specific Support
This section provides detailed examples of features, tools, and searching in a specific HeinOnline library. It also includes all related support material for each library.

Training Guides
Here you can download user’s guides, quick reference guides, searching guides, and more! All the material is in PDF format.

Videos & Webinars
Are you looking for some live examples? Here is where you can find our video library and webinar archive to see HeinOnline in action.

For more information about this collection, including pricing, please contact your sales representative, or contact our Marketing department at marketing@wshein.com or 800-828-7571