CONTENT SUMMARY

All collections in HeinOnline are in exact-page image format (PDF), ensuring the authenticity of the original paper copy. In addition, the content in each HeinOnline collection is from inception, making HeinOnline a unique online resource with substantial legal history content (upwards of seven centuries of coverage in some instances).

In many collections critical elements (i.e. title and author names in the Law Journal Library) have been electronically indexed to enhance searching. In addition, full-text searching is available in all library modules in HeinOnline. Browsing is also available in all collections, which is convenient for page flipping as if the user is holding the original work in his/her hands.

Current HeinOnline library modules follow. New content is added monthly and new library collections are in process. We also welcome suggestions for new content and library modules.

Law Journal Library

Contains more than 1,200 law and law-related periodicals. Coverage is from the first issue published for all periodicals and goes through the most-currently published issues allowed based on contracts with publishers. Therefore, in some cases the current issues are available, but generally a user will notice a one-volume delay. Searching can be done by title or author name, as well as full-text searching of the collection or select periodicals. Date ranges may also be entered to narrow search results. Sub-collections of the Law Journal Library are also available for those institutions wishing to subscribe to fewer periodicals.

Intellectual Property Library

Designed to suit the needs of law firms specializing in intellectual property, this HeinOnline sub-collection contains the most-cited legal periodicals (i.e. Harvard Law Review, Yale Law Journal, etc.) as well as select IP periodicals.
